

My Love,

I wasn't sure what words to write,
Or how to make them sound just right.
Do I praise your gentle, caring ways,
Or the joy you bring to all my days?

At first, I thought a voice would do,
A recording made, as if with you.
The things I'd say if I weren't shy,
The truths I hold, I can't deny.

I truly, deeply, do adore
The way you walk, the life you explore.
To me you shine, a blazing star—
I see your light for who you are.

In case my heart was not yet clear:
I love you more with every year.
No rug pulls here, no fleeting art,
Just lifetime value—soul to heart.

I thank God daily that we met,
A gift of fate I won't forget.
Our love's a ledger, strong and clear,
Each block secured year after year.

Today I minted something rare,
A priceless token, beyond compare.
Forever locked, no gas too high—
My love's liquidity will never dry.

Forever yours, with endless cheer,
Happy Anniversary, my dear.
You are my world, my sweetest art—
Your one and only baby girl ❤️

Ps. Normally I am good at writing, but this took forever to write because I truly do not understand all these crypto terms. Hopefully I am using them correctly.
